CHAMBERLAIN, DAKOTA.

ITS ADVANTAGES.

This hotel has been built and arranged for special comfort and convenience of the traveling public.

On arrival, each guest will be asked how he likes the situation, and if he says the hotel ought to have been placed nearer the railroad depot, the location of the house will be changed.

Corner front rooms, up only one flight, for each guest.

Bath, gas, water closet, hot and cold water, laundry, telegraph, fire alarm, restaurant, bar-room, billiard tables, daily papers, conge, sewing machine, grand piano, a clergyman, and all other modern conveniences in every room.

Meals every minute, if desired, and consequently no second table.

English, French and German dictionaries furnished every guest, to make their selections for devotional exercises, and, previous to leaving, to be returned to the office.

Waiters of every color and nationality if desired. Every waiter furnished with a libretto, button-hole bouquets, full dress suits, ball tablets, and his hair parted in the middle.

Every guest will have the best seat in the dining hall, and the best water in the house.

Any guest not getting his breakfast red-hot, or experiencing a delay of sixteen seconds after giving his order for dinner, will please mention the fact at the manager's office, and the cooks and waiters will be blown from the mouth of the cannon in front of the hotel at once.

Children will be welcomed with delight, and are requested to bring hoop sticks and hawkeys to hang the carved rosewood furniture, expressly provided for that purpose, and peg tops to spin on the velvet carpets; they will also be allowed to hang on to the piano at all hours, fall down stairs, carry away dessert, enough for a small family, in their pockets at dinner; and make themselves as disagreeable as the fondest mother can desire.

Washing allowed in rooms; ladies giving an order "put me on a flat iron," will be put on one at any hour of the day or night.

A discreet waiter, who belongs to the Masons, Odd Fellows, Sons of Malta, Knights of Pythias, K. O. M.'s, M. D. R.'s, and O. M. A.'s, and who was never known to tell the truth or time of day, has been employed to carry milk punches and hot toddies to the ladies' rooms in the evening.

The office clerk has been carefully directed to please everybody, and can unite in prayer, play draw poker, will procure the city doctor, shake for the drinks at any hour, day or night, play billiards, a good whizzer, can dance the German, make a fourth at nchre, amuse the children, repeat the Beecher trial, is a good judge of horses, as a railroad or steamboat, is a superior completer of any house else's guide, will flirt with any young lady, and not mind being cut to death when "Ta comes down," don't mind being damned any more than a Connecticut river, can room forty people in the best room in the house when the hotel is full, attend to the annunciator and answer questions in Greek, Hebrew, Choctaw, Sioux, Irish, or any other polite language, at the same moment, without turning a hair.

Dogs allowed in any room in the house, including the w(h)ine room.

Gentlemen can drink, smoke, swear, chew, gamble, tell shady stories, stare at the new arrivals, or indulge in any other innocent amusements common to first class hotels, in any other part of this country.

The landlord will always be happy to hear that some other hotel is "the best house in the country."

Special attention given to parties who can give information as to how these things are done in YEWREP."
